About the RES

The Royal Entomological Society is a global charity with a vision to enrich the world with insect science. We are the second largest Society dedicated to entomology globally.

We act as a knowledge hub for insect science, engage diverse audiences and invest in cutting edge entomology that benefits both people and nature.

Our events unite experts across the globe to share and preserve knowledge, and empower seasoned professionals and young enthusiasts alike to learn more about the insect world.

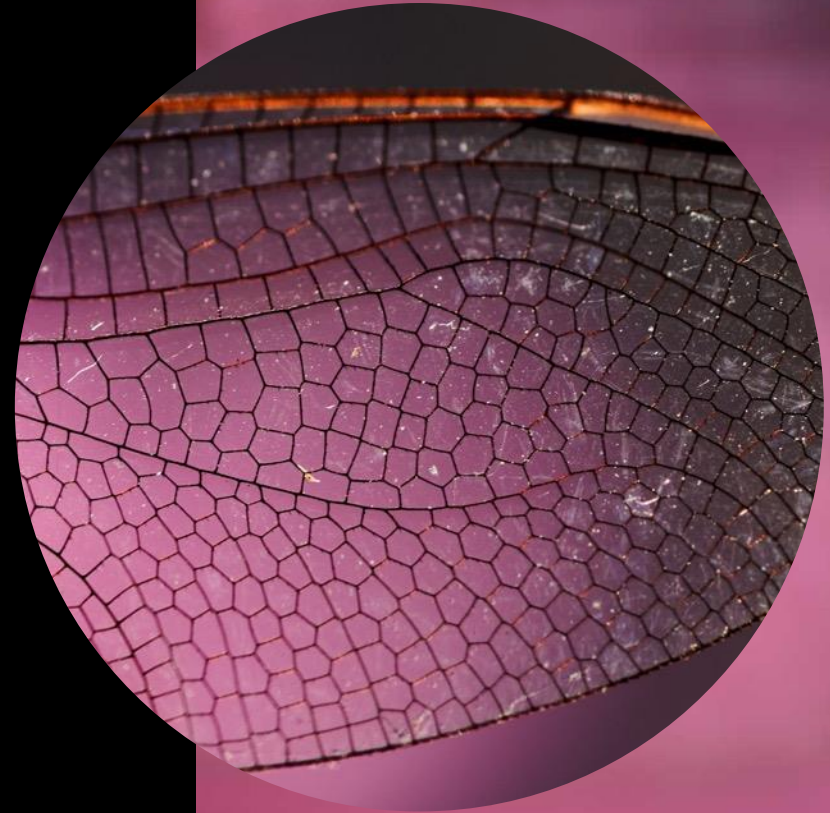

About Ento

Ento is the Royal Entomological Society's annual conference, and the leading global event for insect science in Europe. Ento attracts an international audience and programme of world experts in the field.

Through this event, we are building a platform for entomologists from around the world to come together to present their work, meet new contacts, and build collaborations.

This provides a great opportunity for organisations to join us, increase exposure, and engage with the wider entomological community.

Exhibition

All exhibitors will be located at the hub of the conference where all catering and networking sessions take place, giving you access to engage with the entomological community throughout the event.
