About Us

The Royal Entomological Society is a global charity with a vision to enrich the world with insect science. We are the second largest Society dedicated to entomology globally.

We act as a knowledge hub for insect science, engage diverse audiences and invest in cutting edge entomology that benefits both people and nature.

Our events unite experts across the globe to share and preserve knowledge, and empower seasoned professionals and young enthusiasts alike to learn more about the insect world.

About Ento

Ento is the Royal Entomological Society's annual conference, and the leading event for insect science in Europe. Ento attracts an international audience, hosting a range of world experts across disciplines. Last year we attracted over 300 delegates, and we are expecting over 350 this year!

With this event we are building a platform for entomologists from around the world to come together to present their work, meet new contacts, and build collaborations.

This offers a great opportunity for organisations to join us, increase exposure, and engage with the wider entomological community.
